December 2022 Issue

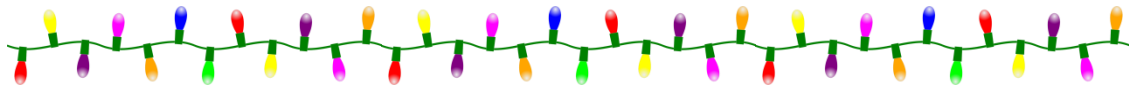

Judi Leatherberry, Editor

Calling All Weavers Guild Members!

Reddi Arts has invited us to demonstrate weaving, spinning and other textile arts on Sunday December 4th from 1:30-4:30. We can be inside in the classroom or out front on the sidewalk.

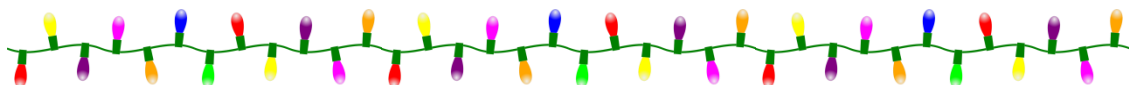

Contact Gail Karson if you'd like to demonstrate. Thank you!

It's Scholarship Time!

The application period for the JWG Scholarship is currently open to all members through January 15th, 2023. Members may request funds for either an upcoming workshop or reimbursement for one taken in the past year. I will be glad to answer questions at the December meeting or if you are not available then, email me at jaelith@aol.com.

Evening Mini-Program Open to ALL Guild Members, Regardless of whether you are a Workshop Participant

If you have not voted your preferences for Robyn's mini program on either Friday or Saturday during the workshop (Feb 3-5), please let one of us know very soon. Here's what we want to know: which evening you prefer, Friday or Saturday and your first and second mini-program choices.

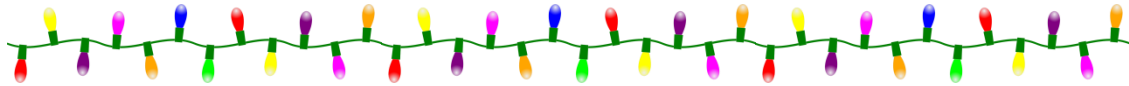

You can Email your preferences to Ann or Susan W.

See the pdf that is attached to the main body of the email with this Newsletter for complete information about the program.

Creativity and the Brain

Ever wonder how the creative arts affect the brain? Kathy Bowles sent this link so we can find out:

What does Stephen Colbert have to do with fiber crafts???

LeAnne Brown sent this very funny link in for our enjoyment!

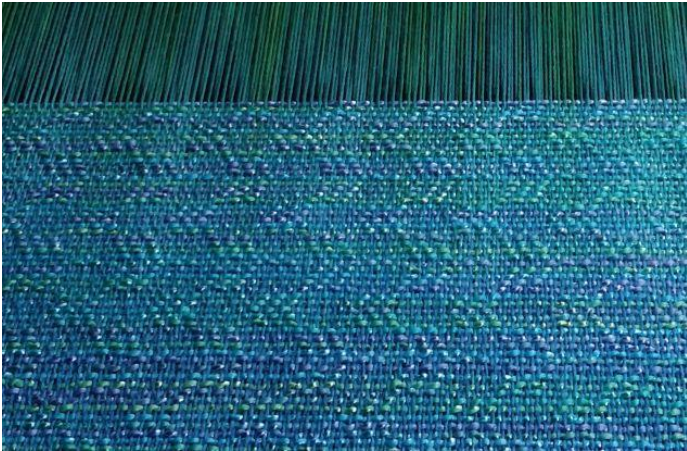

From the Nov 23, 2022 “The Late Show” with Stephen Colbert.

Stephen enlists the team at “NCIS: Los Angeles” to help solve the mystery of who sells the best knitting supplies in all of Cleveland. The answer: Fine Points on Larchmere Blvd, the latest recipient of the #ColbertSmallBizBump. Stop by today or visit them on the web at <https://finepoints.com>. Fine Points is a yarn and button store in Cleveland.

NCIS works with some gory stuff, so be forewarned: Here is the YouTube link: <https://youtu.be/uo27SOh1EgQ>
Enjoy!

What's on My Loom?

Rudell Kopp sent this: Here are 3 photos from my most recent project on my 8-S Baby Wolf. The warp is a Blazing Shuttles dyed 8/2 cotton named September Sky. The 2 different wefts are both Blazing Shuttles dyed textured cotton/rayon variegated skeins with 2 different treadlings.

Beautiful Colors!

November's Show and Tell

Zak Wines (Judy Jull's great-grandson) brought his first project: cotton placemats! He has a great teacher. Judy Jull brought two beautiful scarves!

Joanne Altenburg brought her Friendship Towels woven with hand-dyed weft. Gorgeous!

Rudell Kopp brought two scarves (moebius and infinity) and some yardage, all done with hand-dyed warps.

Gerald Kopp brought a 2 harness loom made from a letter tray and a miscellaneous part donated by Judi Leatherberry. It went home with Zak Wines!

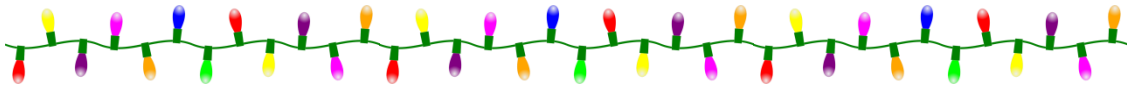

Le Anne Brown brought a Guatemalan doll wreath. Notice that each doll is unique!

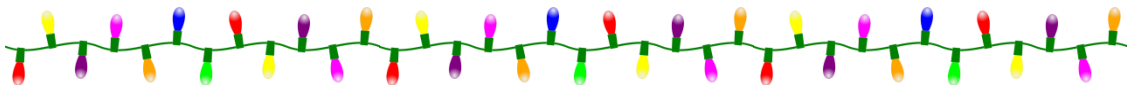

Robal O'Larte showed a shrug created from various small amounts of yarn from a pattern in Simple Woven Garments by Jane Patrick (2014).

Robert Matthews has branched into metal working and had some objects made from diet Coke and Busch cans molded in a muffin pan and then turned on a metal lathe. He also had an example of string mini lights suitable for incorporating into woven items. (Sorry, I took no pictures of them.--Editor)

Be sure to look for these items attached to the main body of the email you got your Newsletter with--they're for members only!
