A Time of Reflection

As the Guild year comes to a close, it is time to evaluate ourselves not only as a guild but as individuals, remembering that it is the individuals who are the guild. Our membership is not large in numbers, but it is MIGHTY. In the last year we have encouraged new weavers and refreshed the skills of others by offering a series of programs designed to entice the creative natures of all members. We had profile drafting, fiber ID, weaving with pictures, tapestry, and basketry - quite an array of opportunities for learning. In addition we supported a marvelous workshop by Kathrin Weber using space dyed warps. We also have agreed to make 120+ name tag holders for FTWG for 2016 conference and at last count we already have approximately 50 completed. What an impressive list of accomplishments!! And take a close look at the Show and Tell items - WOW!

But what impresses me the most and makes it possible to continue as president is that everyone of you is supportive of our guild and always "jump in" to help when needed!!

Thank you again for your continued support!

Judy

It's that time of year again! The end of one chapter fiscal year and the start of another, which means dues are due! At $20, membership in the Jacksonville Weavers Guild is a bargain, with the resourceful speakers/programs we have and access to an extensive Guild borrowing library.

If you won't be able to attend the Guild picnic in May, please mail your check, made out to Jacksonville Weaver's Guild, to:

Thanks for your support of this wonderful organization!

ANNUAL JOINT GAINESVILLE AND JACKSONVILLE WEAVER'S GUILD PICNIC. Saturday, May 9, 2015

Judy Jull's house: 14272 SW 75th Ave., Starke, FL

Time 10:30am...There will be a short meeting to install officers and discuss plans for next year.

Bring a covered dish to share, a chair to sit in, your latest project - weaving, spinning, knitting, etc., and enjoy the fellowship and soft breezes of Sampson Lake. Don't forget - everyone loves show and tell. Drinks will be provided.

Directions: From the intersection of US 301 and Rt. 100 in Starke; take Rt 100 west toward Lake Butler and Lake City for about 4 miles. When you pass a large white church on your left and a yellow intersection sign on your right, slow down to turn left onto SW 75th Ave. (Paved road and big sign advertising THE SLAB). Follow SW 75th Ave. approx. 2.5 miles. I will be on your right - #14272 , chain link fence, brick house, camper in yard, studio with red door, small Elza M. Studio sign. If you find yourself at the boat ramp, turn around and come back about 5 houses.

Phone: 904-964-6673 or 443-786-0021

Don't forget Library Day - Sunday, May 3 from 4 to 7PM - at the Ft. Caroline Center. This is the time to return all books and equipment, renew it, and take out books for the summer. Let's use our library!!

As everyone knows, this is the last Newsletter of the year until September, and I have really enjoyed putting them together! ☺ If you happen to come across anything you'd like to share in the September Issue Newsletter (like projects you did over the summer!) just send them to me by August 31st. That way, we can start our year off with a bang!

I'm really looking forward to another year of beautiful Show and Tell, in addition to the great company of the many wonderful weavers in our Guild!
